SPOTLIGHT: Health Care for Incarcerated Women

Advocates in Los Angeles, led by the ACLU of Southern California, are engaged in ongoing collaboration with the Los Angeles Sheriff's Department to ensure that all incarcerated women have access to the care they need, with a particular focus on reproductive health care for all and specific care for pregnant and postpartum women and their children. Since 2014, the Sheriff's Department has maintained a special unit for pregnant and postpartum women and assigned an advocate to act on behalf of the women. Los Angeles County has also contributed by funding access to contraception and abortion care. Most recently, the department launched pilots of lactation accommodation and doula programs.
